

International funeral plans... made simple.

A helping hand for Expatriates living abroad.

A GOLDEN LEAVES INTERNATIONAL FUNERAL PLAN IS NOT AN INSURANCE POLICY

Peace of mind for you and your family

Living in the warmth and friendship of an expatriate community has many benefits. However, if you were to pass away there, would your loved ones know what to do in order to arrange a funeral that suits your wishes?

Pre-planning your funeral is a thoughtful and responsible way to show that you care about your family.

You're guaranteed the funeral you want and your family are spared the emotional and financial burden of organising everything when they can least cope.

If you're an expatriate living overseas, pre-planning your funeral isn't just a kind and caring thing to do, it's essential.

Why pre-planning your funeral is essential if you live abroad

There are some very significant differences between funerals in the UK and abroad, which can make funeral planning unnecessarily complicated and stressful.

Outside of the UK, a funeral normally takes place within 48 hours of death. You can imagine the pressure this can put on grieving relatives who may have no idea who to call, or how to register a death.

Most funerals outside the UK may also require payment within 24 hours of death. If you're unable to pay upfront, the funeral could be postponed, and you could be charged for every additional day that it is delayed.

On top of the burden of organising a funeral overseas, you could encounter other serious obstacles such as complex regulations and red tape, as well as the language barrier itself.

These are just some of the reasons why more expatriates are choosing to pre-arrange and pre-pay for their funeral service well before they actually pass away.

“We got in touch over the phone and the helpful representative thoroughly explained everything in a clear and informative manner. We both chose a plan, and it was such a relief to know we were covered for when the time came.”

Julian Taylor

“My thanks to Golden Leaves International for the wonderful service they gave following the death of my dear husband. They came to the rescue and rushed the paperwork through, so that I could use the funeral plan rather than have the awful business of sorting it out myself.”

Did you know?

A recent survey has shown that the cost of a Spanish Funeral has increased by over 25% in the last 5 years. The projected cost is set to rise substantially over the next 5 years, so it makes simple common sense to freeze your costs at today's price.

Relax, your funds are in expert hands

When you pre-plan with us, the funds are placed in the Golden Leaves International Trust, which is managed by an independent board of trustees. Their role is to ensure that funds are available to cover the cost of every pre-paid funeral. This is vital to ensure the funds are safe and secure in the trust fund until the moment it is required.

Golden Leaves International Trust operates to the very highest standards when it comes to consumer protection; amongst the trustees is the Vice President of the Trading Standards Institute, and Assistant Director Office of Fair Trading. Julius Baer and Quilter Cheviot are the appointed fund managers, and Lloyds are the Trust's bankers.

Strict monitoring

Golden Leaves International applies the exact same stringent approach to business governance and operational procedures as it does in the United Kingdom to all of its international activities.

Our Trust Funds withstand extensive annual actuarial reporting and rigorous check and balances to ensure that both fund management and the investments pass strict oversight and controls. This ensures that the funds for your purchase are safe and securely held.

Golden Leaves International is unique in offering the same superior level of operational and financial protection abroad as you would expect to receive from us in the UK.

Your questions answered

Why not just take out insurance?

Customers are often tempted to choose an insurance policy rather than a Funeral Plan, but there are a number of reasons why a Funeral Plan is a more sensible option.

- With a Golden Leaves International Funeral Plan, you pay a fixed cost. With an insurance policy, you keep paying until you pass away - which means that you might pay considerably more than the funeral actually costs!
- A Golden Leaves Funeral Plan does not require any medicals or health questionnaires like an insurance policy generally does.
- There are no age restrictions with Golden Leaves International and the price is fixed whatever your age, whereas you can usually only get insurance up to a certain age.
- There is no guarantee that an insurance policy will actually cover the cost of your funeral when you die. With one of our plans, your funeral is 100% guaranteed to be fully paid for.
- There are no refunds if you cancel your insurance policy.
- An insurance policy does not provide you with an emergency 24-hour helpline service.
- Most important of all, an insurance policy does nothing to protect your loved ones from the immense stress of having to organise a funeral in a foreign country, with the language barrier and local regulations to contend with.

Or a savings plan?

Funeral costs in Europe have risen dramatically in recent years and will likely continue to do so.

When placing your money in a savings plan, there are no guarantees that your investment will be able to pay for your funeral when the day comes. With Golden Leaves International however, not only do you pay today's prices, but you can plan every last detail in advance, which guarantees the funeral you want.

Is it really necessary to pre-plan my funeral?

For expatriates living overseas, we believe it's essential. The combination of strict regulations, red tape and language barriers means that pre-planning is the only way to ensure your family is spared the stress of organising everything when the time comes.

“ I called Golden Leaves International,
a representative came to visit and explained everything to me... The payment was taken over the phone and my wife was covered immediately. ”

What if I want my body to be brought back to the UK?

Most expats choose a plan that assumes their funeral will take place in their current country of residence. But if you'd prefer to be repatriated to have a funeral on your home soil, we have a funeral plan specially designed to facilitate this.

Will I be dual-country covered?

Yes. As well as being covered in the country where you have purchased your plan, by providing additional information, your arrangements will be set up in the UK too at no additional charge.

Global Portability

If you purchase a Golden Leaves International Plan, but pass away outside your country of residence, visiting relatives or friends for example, your plan covers you there too, if you do not wish to be returned back home. Depending on where you normally reside, the purchase value of your plan can either be fully utilised to pay for your funeral services in the country of death, or can be contributed to the total cost, with the remainder required to be paid at the time of need.

Will there be any additional costs at the time of the funeral?

Golden Leaves International guarantees 100% of the costs of the arrangements specified in your Funeral Plan. There are no hidden extras or administration charges for your family to deal with when the time comes.

Do I need a new will?

Yes. For expats with property or assets overseas, with different legal systems, it's essential to have a correct and locally compatible will. This way, you can avoid leaving your loved ones with a lengthy and expensive legal process. Golden Leaves International can put you in touch with our local experts to ensure you have all the advice you need to have a suitable will drafted.

What happens if I die on holiday?

We recommend checking that your travel insurance covers repatriation. If it doesn't, we can advise your dependents how to use the plan's funds to contribute towards the cost of a local funeral, or the cost of repatriation back to your country of residence.

Can I cancel the plan?

Yes. In contrast to an insurance policy, you can cancel your Golden Leaves International Plan at any time and get a refund for a significant portion of your purchase price.

How do I apply?

So you've chosen to take out a Golden Leaves International funeral plan, what happens next?

Step One

Follow the instructions to complete the included application form.

Step Two

Complete the payment form indicating how you'd like to pay. (If you choose to pay by cheque it should be made payable to Golden Leaves International Trust.)

Step Three

Return both completed forms (and cheque if applicable) to your local Golden Leaves International Consultant.

Choose one of our payment options:

Lump Sum Payment: The whole sum is paid within 30 days of application.

Instalment: You pay a monthly fee over a 1 to 5 year period (or longer if required). See 'Details & Costs' form for payment schedules.

When your application has been processed, and your chosen payment method confirmed, Golden Leaves International will:

- Check all the details of your application to ensure that it is complete
- Contact you if further information is required
- Issue your Plan documentation
- Dispatch receipt of payment
- Send an Emergency Card for you to carry with you at all times
- Provide you with copies of your Plan for you to distribute as you wish.
